STOP IT!

When you keep making fun of someone because of their race, it isn’t cool.

Bullying is repeated. It’s intentional. And sometimes it can be subtle or indirect.

Xia’s right. That’s racially motivated bullying, and it’s important to recognize it.

Seriously? I’m the most popular kid in school. How could I be a bully?

Bully isn’t a noun. It’s an action.

It’s time we take bullying down by standing up together!

Once you can recognize bullying, you can refuse to participate or report the bullying to a grown-up.

© 2022 Committee for Children

Visit captaincompassion.org to read the next comic!